

Why You Should Consider an Assistant Vice President (AVP) Role

At ATD NYC, we are continually looking for ways to help our members develop and grow their skills. We've launched a new type of volunteer role for that reason. Our Assistant Vice President (AVP) roles are meant to help you develop while helping move the chapter forward. AVPs assist a specific Chapter Vice President by owning and leading a tailored project in their elected areas: Marketing, Membership, Programs, Special Interest Groups, Talent Management, and Technology.

AVP roles are ideal for students just entering the field, professionals transitioning into the field, or anyone considering applying for the VP-level role. Want to learn more about the AVP role and the benefits it offers? Visit our Volunteer Page or contact <insert VP Talent Management name> (<insert VP Talent Management email>), our VP Talent Management.